

FREE PROJECTS available at www.bfranklincrafts.com

Elegant Towel Holders

Materials Needed

One yard of memory wire
Needle-nose pliers
Assorted beads

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Using the needle-nose pliers, twist one end of the wire to form a closed loop. String beads from the opposite end of the wire.

To make a towel holder with dangling beads that lay on the front of the towel (similar to the one in our picture), put your desired beads as the first and last beads.

2. Place alternate colors and sizes of beads onto the wire for a varied pattern that can be repeated. Or, string as desired. String beads until you have four or five coils strung.

3. After the last bead is on, use the needle-nose pliers, twisting the wire to form another closed loop. Cut off the excess wire.

Two More Ideas...

Old necklaces, jewelry findings, shells, and buttons are also fun to string for this project.

Use these beaded coils as elegant napkin rings.

Image and Concept copied with permission from Sierra Pacific Crafts

