

Saturday Sampler 2025

Message from Carrie – April 3, 2025

Hi Friends,

It's April, and there are so many exciting things happening! The All Pacific Northwest Shop Hop started this month and runs through May 31. All the details are on our website here. We have the magazines, fabric, quilt kits, and fun project suggestions to help you hop. There is also a little bunny named Hopper hidden in the department for you to find. If you find it, bring it to the counter and scan a special QR code with your phone (we can help if you need it) to enter to win prizes.

We switched things around this month in fabric. I am excited for you to come in and see the changes. Look for a new video tour of the department next week. The classrooms got a little paint refresh, too. It makes me want to do a refresh at home!

We are taking Hero Quilt donations, and they will hang in the store in May. I talked to Sue at American Hero Quilts, and they have been getting really low on quilts. They will be so appreciative of the quilts we bring them. If you have any questions about the program, here is a link where you can learn more.

I love this month's blocks for both quilts. I jumped around for both of them again, so check out the tutorials to see what we are working on this month - a star block for Star Studded and a Dresden for Quilter's Patch. How is your quilt coming? Are you keeping up? Need some help or have questions? Let me know if there's anything you need to stay caught up.

We are in baseball season at home again. No tournaments yet, just cold, dark bleachers. I'll keep you posted on my baseball projects when the weather gets a little better. I am excited to get some projects bound and do more work on my English paper piecing. What are your go-to travel projects? Pop onto the Facebook Group and let us know.

Have fun with your blocks!

Love ya!
Carrie
