

Saturday Sampler 2025

Message from Carrie – June 7, 2025

Hi Friends,

Can you believe it's June? May went by so fast! We loved seeing everyone for the All Pacific Northwest Shop Hop and are so excited for the Western Washington Shop Hop to start on June 16th. The fabrics are beautiful - I have them held upstairs, but if you want to place a pre-order, let me know. I have a feeling they're going to sell quickly.

American Hero Quilts have been hanging in the store for a few weeks, and we have a record number of quilts. This is the last weekend to vote, so pop in and do that if you want to check them out.

Big changes are happening at my house. Gracie is coming back home for the summer, which means another shift in my available space. I've been bringing my machine into the living room and quilting some of my tops that have been waiting patiently for my time and attention. That frees up the downstairs for her friends to hang out without me bugging them.

The other big change is that Mitch has decided he's done playing baseball. That's going to be a huge shift for us and will free up our weekends. I might have to go watch his friends play though, just so I can get my bindings and paper piecing done. He's ready for a break from sports but has some awesome opportunities this fall to fill his time.

Fall and Christmas are starting to roll into the store. It'll probably look different every time you come in! It feels like we're constantly rearranging these days. Lots of new fabric collections have been added to the online store, too. Remember that you get FREE shipping on orders of $75 or more.

Another change is our flat fold table - we've reorganized it. The fabrics are now sorted by price; each rack has a price point, and all the fabrics on that rack are priced accordingly. It should make it easier to stay within a certain budget for your project.

We have some super fun classes coming this summer with new instructors and some familiar faces, too. I'm planning a Summer Mystery Quilt and a few others that are still in the works. Check out our calendar for more information.

Have a great month everyone!

Love ya! Carrie
